

PRIVACY POLICY

Your privacy and safety are two of the core principles of INBA d.o.o. Since its establishment in 2010 INBA has never and never will sell, trade or release private information about its clients to any other party.

When you trust us with your private information on our website we protect it online and offline.

We use a range of protection technology and procedures to help protect your personal information from unauthorized access, use and disclosure as soon as we receive it. INBA agency uses reasonable and appropriate measures to protect your personal information from unauthorised access or disclosure. Nevertheless, information obtained via the internet or kept on servers can never be fully protected. This is why we can not guarantee safety of all information obtained or disclosed via the internet. We are not responsible for the disclosure, destruction or theft of your personal information.

When you register on our website, your account is protected by a password. We recommend you not to share or disclose any of the information related to your account. You are fully responsible for your personal information.

INBA AND THIRD PARTY ORGANIZATIONS

Like many other commercial organizations represented on the internet, we collect information about your visit to our website. We collect this information to improve the quality of our services. To gather this information we use different third party technologies provided by Google and Yandex. For example, we use Yandex Metrica to track and report website traffic.

This programme is used for anonymous evaluation of the INBA official website. By means of this programme we collect data on the device used to view our website (computer, tablet, smartphone) and the operating system (Windows, Macintosh, Android, IOS). We collect this information to ensure that our website is optimized for different devices and operating systems.

Part of the technology used are cookies. Cookies are automatically saved to your hard-drive as text files. Most of them are session cookies, which means they are deleted after closing the web browser. The others are permanent cookies that remain in operation even after closing the browser. These cookies enable us to gather target information on products and prices. You can easily delete the cookies by following the instructions provided by your browser.

While gathering statistical data it is important to note that INBA does not sell or lease any personal information. We disclose this information only if it so required by the law.

SUPPORT SERVICE

If you have any further questions or recommendations about our privacy policy or website, you can contact us via e-mail: info@inba.si